

Nontraditional Students Await Notice of Lottery Scholarships

Nontraditional college students who applied for lottery scholarships are still waiting for notification to be sent regarding the scholarships.

According to the Arkansas Department of Higher Education, award notices should be sent in early August via email so students should be patient and check their online accounts for information in the coming weeks.

Because students are not guaranteed a scholarship, they are encouraged to make other payment arrangements if they are counting on the lottery award just in case they do not receive one of the scholarships.
