

Mena Middle School Eighth Graders Visit RMCC

RMCC and Mena Middle School recently invited eighth graders and their parents to the College for the chance to learn more about college bound opportunities. Information about the services and programs provided by RMCC and federally funded TRIO programs in assisting with the transition from middle to high school was also presented. Janice Whorton, Mena Middle School counselor, worked with RMCC staff members to facilitate the event. Those from RMCC assisting were Dr. Wayne Hatcher, RMCC President; Rodney Rowland, Upward Bound Coordinator; Julie Ulmer, Educational Talent Search Coordinator; Mary Standerfer, Financial Aid Director; and Tammy Young, Director of Admissions. Campus tours were provided by Staci Yahn and Chris Lawler on behalf of RMCC's President's Leadership Council.
